CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER

John Duncan Arrested by the Police Last Night.

WIFE DIED YESTERDAY

He Is Alleged to Have Beat Her to Death.

Mrs. Sallie Duncan, (colored), died yesterday morning at 10 e'clock and John Duncan is locked in the city jall with the mest inhuman form of wife murder hanging over him. John Duncan was arrested last night for the murder of his 200 out in the city court this morning by the father of the dead woman and already detectives have been weaving The evidence against him so far is purely dreumstantial, but the officers hope to find more substantial proof, and they believe that when the man is brought before a court that they will be able to produce witnesses that will lead to this man's conviction on the charge of man-

Mrs. Duncan died at 10 o'clock, but no action was taken even by the members of the family until $ o'clock yesterday aftertoon, when the coroner's attention was alled to it by the aged father, and upon ivestigation Coroner McCollister found sufficient facts to warrant the arrest of the man and to take official action and coronar's inquest will be held this after-noon or tomorrow morning and possibly post mortem examination will be held. The fact of the inteness of the man's arrest was caused by the taciturn dispo sition of the dead woman. She absolutely refused to tell where and how she came the injuries that lead to her death. She has been injured a week or ten days and the tenth rib on the right side is fractured, but she absolutely refused to tell the physicians how she came by that und and she only divulged that secreto her sister. Mrs. Rebecal Brown, and that lady refused to tell what she knew until she was brought on the witness stand, either in court or before a coroner's jury. She told her father some of the facts, however, and when these were given to the coroner and that official had made inquiries of the attending physician be determined to take action and immediately gave orders to have John Duncan arrested and held until the case had been more thoroughly probed.
